Our 2 week-long courses

In the footsteps of the Masters: Goya's etching techniques

In this printmaking studio course, students will learn to use expressively and creatively Goya's printing techniques, gaining experiential knowledge of his working method.

Students will have a complete overview of Goya's work in Madrid at the Prado Museum, the National Engraving Museum, San Fernando Royal Academy of Arts, and San Antonio de la Florida Chapel.

Students will learn through the study of Goya's etching techniques, his influence in Contemporary Art.

Prado Museum Interpretative Master Copy Drawing

By imitating the achievements of the greatest artists of the past, students will outdo their current drawing skill level and gain particular insights into their working method, artistic choices, and use of materials.

Through this process students will enlarge their artistic vocabulary, vision and drawing skills.

The objective of this course is to draw on-site the paintings of the Prado Museum Old Masters, such as Titian, El Greco, Velázquez, Durer, Rubens or Goya to name a few.

The Contemporary Art Market

This course provides students with a comprehensive insight on the Contemporary Art Market, which will complement and professionalize their artistic education.

Through a hands-on and on-site study of Madrid's Contemporary Art Scene, Students will learn how the Contemporary Art Market is structured, and operates in a global scale.

Students will delve into the different contexts of how Contemporary Art is produced, validated, distributed, shown and bought as well as the recent evolution of tendencies such as blockchain, NFTs or digital commerce and how it affected the art institutions.

Portrait Painting: Contemporary Explorations and Strategies

Learning to paint begins with learning to observe. In this hands-on process-oriented course, students will focus on the process of conceptualizing and creating a portrait.

Students will work from life and from photographs, documenting themselves and exploring the different strategies previous to start capturing not only the likeness, expression and gaze, but also the essence of the person to be portrayed.

This intensive studio course highlights the cultural and artistic importance of portrait painting, providing students the opportunity of a significant development in this genre, while giving them the necessary skills to undertake with professional criteria future portrait commissions.

Entrepreneurship and poetics of the performative Body in Madrid

In this course you will learn to conceive the notion of entrepreneurship as a creative process to design, manage and communicate transcendental ideas through dance, theater and body expression.

Choosing particular elements of Madrid, such as a painting from the Prado Museum, a local musical piece, a particular location, a poem or a dramaturgy, students will learn how to represent and express these sources of inspiration through their bodies, and create with their mobile devices short audio visual clips.

As a final project, students will elaborate a story using their improvisations, which will be the result of all the skills and self-knowledge acquired during the course. At the end of it, students will be able to undertake an artistic project, integrate proactivity as a creative value and understand the impact of art and its transformative power to change the environment.
